First Love.

How does a woman love? Once, no more, Though life forever its loss deplow; Deep in sorrow or deep in sin. One king reigneth her heart within. One alone, by night and day, Moves her spirit to curse or pray. One voice only can call her soul Back from the grasp of death's control; Though lovers beset her, or friends deride, Yea, when she smileth another man's bride, Still for her master her life makes moan-Once is forever, and once alone.

How does a man love? Ouce for all. The sweetest voices of life may call, Sorrow danut him, or death dismay, Joy's red roses bedeck his way; Fortune smile, or j st, or frown, The cruel thumb of the world turn down; Loss betray him or love delight, Through storm or sunshine, by day or night Wandering, toiling, asleep, awake, Though souls may madden, or weak hearts break, Setter than wife, or child, or pelf, Once and forever, he loves-himself. Rose Terry Cooke.
